

Concord Township – Electric Aggregation Announcement for AEP Ohio Customers

Electric Aggregation Program Update April 22, 2025

New Aggregation Agreement

We're pleased to announce that the Township, in partnership with our energy advisor, Trebel Energy, has secured a new supply agreement with Archer Energy, an Ohio based supplier. Under this agreement, participating residents and small businesses will benefit from a fixed electric generation rate of $0.0915 per kilowatt hour, beginning with their next available meter read and continuing through May 2026. This fixed rate is designed to protect participants from expected increases in electric generation costs, while also incorporating current PJM capacity prices. The program will continue beyond that period—from June 2026 to May 2028—with a flexible pricing structure that reflects capacity costs as they are published each year.

Automatic Enrollment & Flexibility

Most residents and small businesses who are not under contract with another supplier will be automatically enrolled in the aggregation program. There is no fee to join or leave, and participants may opt in or out at any time without penalty. An initial opt-out window is open through May 14, 2025, should anyone choose not to participate.

Utility Notice – Aggregation is NOT Ending

As part of this transition, residents may receive notice from AEP Ohio that might cause confusion or concern—these notices suggest that the aggregation program is ending.

The Concord Township Electric Aggregation Program is not ending.

The current program term is concluding, and we are transitioning into a new contract with updated pricing. As part of this transition, you will soon receive opt-out letters related to the next term of the aggregation program. These letters are a normal part of the process and are required by state regulations. The Township remains fully committed to the aggregation program and the cost savings it provides.

Program Highlights

- Stable rate of $0.0915/kWh through May 2026
- Protection from utility rate volatility
- No switching or early termination fees
- Seamless billing through AEP Ohio
